

Eastern Connecticut State University Eastern Book Club Constitution

Mission Statement: To bring back the joy of reading for students that are already stressed with their academics. As a student club of the ECSU community, the Eastern Book Club provides a space for readers to discuss their opinions and connect with other students through literature.

ARTICLE I - NAME

The name of this club shall be the Eastern Book Club _____
_____ of Eastern Connecticut State University.

ARTICLE II - PURPOSE

It shall be the purpose of this organization to come together despite differences to enjoy a common activity such as discussing literary texts and bringing variety into an already versatile subject. _____

ARTICLE III - MEMBERSHIP

- Section 1: This organization will be open to all students currently registered at Eastern Connecticut State University.
- Section 2: Anyone who attends two consecutive meetings will be considered a voting member of the Club _____. However, anyone who has five absences from regular meetings during the same semester will lose their voting privileges, and will gain it back after attending two consecutive meetings.
- Section 3: Any voting member unable to attend a meeting for an excusable reason may vote by an absentee ballot.

Section 4: The constitution may be amended at a duly constituted meeting of the organization by a two-thirds (2/3) vote provided that prior notice has been given.

Article XII - Parliamentary Authority

Robert's Rule of Order, Newly Revised shall act as the Parliamentary authority for all meetings of the club.

Rules of order are formally adopted written rules of parliamentary procedure that relate to the orderly transaction of business in meetings and the duties of officers in the transaction of business. They are found in the parliamentary authority adopted by the organization.

Rules of order include the order of business to be followed by an organization. The typical order of business for an organization is: a call to order, roll call, reading and approval of minutes, report of officers, report of boards, report of standing and/or special committees, unfinished business, and adjournment. Depending on the organization, it may also include an invocation of formal ceremony, reading of correspondence, announcements, good of the order, a program or speaker.

When rules of order in the parliamentary authority adopted by the organization do not meet the needs of the organization, the organization can adopt special rules of order that then supersede rules on the same subject.

Article XIII - Ratification

This constitution must be ratified by a majority vote at a regular meeting and approved by the Student Government Association Budget and Management Committee.
