LEAP into Leadership Conference

“Lights, Camera, Leadership!” was the student-chosen theme for this semester’s annual LEAP into Leadership Conference. In collaboration with the Center for Internships and Career Development, Student Activities achieved a great turnout from the student body. Participants engaged in several leadership information sessions, roundtable discussions and learned from keynote speakers during the LEAP into Leadership’s role and responsibility of being a student leader on campus.

The LEAP into Leadership Series allows students to tap into their own leadership potential. Through training and leadership workshops, students take that potential and then learn to apply it within their own circles, while preparing the core values of Eastern Connecticut State University.

Internship Awareness Campaign

The new internship awareness campaign was launched in spring 2015 to encourage students to find internships that align with their career aspirations. The campaign aimed to increase the number of internships available for students by promoting and reporting on completed internships in the Center for Internships and Career Development.

“We are pleased with the success of the program,” stated Assistant Director Paul J. Rossitto, “…more than 65 students shared their internship stories with us, resulting in the most successful reporting campaign to date.” As incentive to report their internship, students earned a free iIntern t-shirt and free admission to the Internship Success Breakfast.

As always, we thank the Eastern faculty for encouraging students of the importance of completing their internship to increase their marketability upon graduation and recommending the services offered by the CICD.

The Career and Internship Fair draws students from all majors to look for internships and job opportunities. The fair is an annual event for students on, or preparing for, the job and internship hunt.

Another semester, another fantastic Career and Internship Fair! With 94 registered companies, the Center for Internships and Career Development hosted once again pulled off another great event for students on, or preparing for, the job and internship hunt.

As the fair, which was sponsored by Empire Holdings, Inc., students from all majors had a chance to put their best foot forward and interact with employers.

Employers attending the fair ranged from Eastern’s Alumni Affairs Office to Pfizer, all looking to hire talented Eastern students for internships and full-time positions.

In addition to the opportunity to connect with employers, The CICD offered a “LinkedIn Photo Booth” to provide professional head shots for students’ LinkedIn profiles and to educate them on how to properly market themselves online.

Employers and Career Development staff presented a session on using social media in your job search and moderated the Life After College roundtable discussion in which recent Eastern alumni shared lessons learned from their transitions from college life to the professional world. Their stories and unique perspectives allowed students to understand what to expect and what to look forward to as they launch their own professional careers.

At the fair, which was hosted by Career and Internship Development, managed to land an outstanding internship at Gottier Investments.
