

“The Understory” was filmed by Eastern Communication majors during a visit to the Los Tuxtlas Biology Station in Veracruz, Mexico, that was led by Professor Jaime Gomez in May 2007. The film chronicles deforestation and the ecological situation and consequences of the timber industry in a tropical rainforest in Mexico.