The Basics of Misconduct

1. Violations involving personal integrity
2. Violations involving the rights of other individuals
3. Violations involving health and safety of the University community
4. Violations involving ongoing activities and/or processes of the University
All behaviors that involve acts of dishonesty are prohibited in the student Code of Conduct.

You must exhibit Academic Integrity

- Honesty in your academic work
- All work you say is yours must be yours

It is your responsibility to know what constitutes academic dishonesty and plagiarism

Do not cheat
What constitutes Academic Misconduct?

Academic misconduct is defined as, but not limited to, providing or receiving assistance in a manner not authorized by the instructor in the creation of work to be submitted for academic evaluation. All Academic Misconduct violations carry sanctions that may go from assigning a grade of “F” for the assignment to being expelled from the University.

Here's a direct link to Eastern’s resource to help you recognize and avoid plagiarism. This link can also be accessed from the Judicial Affairs website.
The Judicial Affairs Office staff instructs and educates students on how to act as responsible adults in a community based living-learning environment.
The Eastern Student Handbook is the guide that contains all of the policies and procedures you are required to be aware of and abide by. It is a web-based, searchable document and can be found at the following link: http://www1.easternct.edu/studentaffairs/student-handbook/

The University will now exercise its right to extend the Student Code of Conduct for alcohol, underage drinking, social hosting, and similar types of violations/arrests/citations that occur off-campus.
Mouse over “Academics” on Eastern’s main menu

The Main Menu can be found at the top of every webpage.

On the “Academics” menu, a dropdown menu will reveal several items, one of which is “Online Resources”

Mouse over “Online Resources” and a dropdown menu will show three items, the first two of which are links to the “Online Catalog” and the “Schedule of Classes”

Mouse over the third item, also called “Online Resources,” to reveal three additional links to other useful resources

Let’s go to Eastern’s Homepage and take a look.
