Marathon volunteers

The cross-country team at Eastern Connecticut State University recently volunteered at the Hartford Marathon, assisting athletes with disabilities through the races. Nine members of the team served as guide runners for blind athletes or those in wheelchairs and 12 members served as course marshals in the 5K, the race in which the majority of athletes with disabilities participated.

Contributed photo