(Prospect) Hill is alive with the sound of music

Eastern Connecticut State University students performed in a musical recital recently at the school's new Fine Arts Instructional Center. TOP: Jason Crocker plays 'Clarinet Concerto No. 3 in B Flat Major' by Carl Philip Stamitz. BELOW: Alexis Kurtz, a soprano and an ECSU senior from Andover, sings "Mein Herr Marquis" from the opera 'Die Fledermaus' by Johann Strauss. The Noon Recital Series provides regular opportunities for students of all skill levels to perform musical pieces in an informal and welcoming setting. All programs are open to the public and are held on Fridays at noon in the Room 110 of the fine arts building.
