Talking election issues

Eastern Connecticut State University students presented a mock presidential debate during University Hour Wednesday at the J. Eugene Smith Library in the Johnson Community Room. Portraying the four candidates are, left to right, Allie Kazlauskas, a senior who played the role of Democrat Hillary Clinton; James Dignoti, a senior who portrayed Republican Donald Trump; Francesco Ricigliano, an ECSU sophomore, played Libertarian Gary Johnson; and Joshua Newhall, an ECSU junior, represented the Green Party candidate, Jill Stein.
