1. Discussion with Dr. Nuñez
Dr. Nuñez joined the LAPC to discuss plans for the implementation of the new core curriculum. She praised the work of the committee and encouraged our ongoing efforts to support the development of an innovative new liberal arts core curriculum. The President answered members’ questions regarding curriculum, academic planning, faculty professional development, and her vision for Eastern.

2. Review of minutes of November 29, 2006
Motion made and seconded (Wolf, Booth) to accept the minutes as presented.

Old Business

3. Announcements
   a. Faculty forums
      A faculty forum regarding Applied Information Technology will be held immediately following the LAPC meeting on December 6. Two faculty forums have been scheduled for the week of December 11 and one additional forum on Thursday will be scheduled to accommodate requests by faculty.
   b. Lunch and Learn December 6 Tracks in Computer Science: Pathways in the LAC
      Drs. Joel Roseine and Gary Rommell will present their vision of how curriculum reform in Computer Science can improve course offerings for majors and interested students, while supporting new and engaging courses for the Liberal Arts Colloquium and Applied Information Technology categories at the Lunch and Learn on December 6.
   c. Approval of CHE 205 and LAPC website of approved courses
      The first Tier I Natural Science course approved by the LAPC, CHE 205, has been approved by the Curriculum Committee and reported to Senate. A new page on our LAPC website has been added to post all approved LAC courses.

4. Graphic students’ submissions
Members are asked to review student submissions for a graphic representation of the LAC and rank their top three choices.

New Business

5. Implementation Policies Fall 2007
Based on the recommendation of the implementation support team for the LAC, a motion was made and seconded (Martin, Booth) to implement the LAC for all first time first year (full and part-time) students. Approved.

No other new business was conducted.

Next Meeting: 13 December 2006

Minutes respectfully submitted,

Maggie Martin, Chair