Fall 2014 Graduate School Fair

On Wednesday, October 29th, the Center for Internships and Career Development hosted the CICD’s annual Graduate School Fair in Eastern’s Gossamer Building. This event allowed for Eastern students to interact with representatives from various graduate programs. The Graduate School Fair was the annual event organized and genuinely hard workers who wanted real life, meaningful experiences. Some of these students were interested in attending graduate school in order to further their education, while others were simply curious about the programs and what they offered.

On Wednesday, October 29th, the Center for Internships and Career Development hosted the CICD’s annual Graduate School Fair in Eastern’s Gossamer Building. This event allowed for Eastern students to interact with representatives from various graduate programs. The Graduate School Fair was the annual event organized and genuinely hard workers who wanted real life, meaningful experiences. Some of these students were interested in attending graduate school in order to further their education, while others were simply curious about the programs and what they offered.