

FIRST-YEAR STUDENT HOUSING

There are many options for first-year housing at Eastern, each with their own personality. After submitting your deposits, you should complete your housing application where you may rank your top three choices of residence halls. The respective costs next to each building are based on the 2024-2025 rates and do not include any financial aid for which you may be eligible.

SUITE STYLE:

The bedrooms in suites are furnished with twin XL beds, desks, dressers, desk chairs, built-in closets, and windows with blinds. Suite styles have laundry facilities, an exercise room, a game room with a pool table, ping pong, and a computer/study lounge. All suite style buildings are ADA accessible and have elevators.

CONSTITUTION HALL $10,284

Located at the center of campus, Constitution houses 250 students within 4-person double bedroom suites. Each suite includes a bathroom, separate shower room, a vanity area with two sinks, and central heat/air conditioning.

Benefits of living here: Constitution combines the benefits of traditional-style living with the luxury of having your own suite. With a common area on each floor, you are able to meet all the students living on your floor, as well as those throughout the building.

MEAD HALL $10,888

Mead Hall houses 308 students within a 4-person double bedroom suite. Each suite has a common living area, one private bathroom, central heat and air conditioning, a vanity area, and storage closet.

Benefits of living here: Mead is located near the dining hall and provides the largest rooms for our first-year students. Having your own living room within your suite provides a sense of community with your suite.

See reverse side for traditional style housing options, and scan here for virtual tours and more information about each hall. Contact housing@easternct.edu with questions.

FIRST-YEAR STUDENT HOUSING

TRADITIONAL STYLE:

Eastern's traditional style bedrooms are furnished with twin XL beds, desk, chair, and a closet/dresser unit for each resident and windows with blinds. Each floor has bathroom and shower facilities which are cleaned by professional staff. Laundry facilities, pool tables, computers, and exercise rooms vary by building. All traditional style buildings are not ADA accessible and do not have elevators.

BURNAP AND CRANDALL HALLS

$9,080

These twin buildings are next to one another, and both buildings are co-ed by floor. On each floor is a TV lounge, laundry, bathroom, and shower facilities.

Benefits of living here: You will experience a great sense of community within your floor and building, and these buildings are close to the dining hall.

WINTHROP HALL

$10,068

Located at the center of campus, Winthrop houses 37 students in single bedrooms, co-ed by floor. Winthrop is equipped with a computer lab, gaming area, TV lounges, and vending machines throughout the building.

Benefits of living here: Winthrop is located close to classes and the library. You'll find a great community in Winthrop, while enjoying the privacy of your own bedroom.

BURR HALL

$9,080

Located on the south side of campus, Burr Hall houses 76 students in two-person rooms, co-ed by floor. On the ground floor, there is a large common area, TVs, and computers; the first floor has a piano room for student use.

Benefits of living here: Burr Hall is a fun, historical place to live! It is Eastern's first residence hall, has the largest rooms of all traditional buildings, and provides students a great sense of community within their floor and throughout the building.
