Honors Designation

* Dean's Distinction    ** Cum Laude
*** Magna Cum Laude    **** Summa Cum Laude

Commencement Honors. Students graduating with a cumulative grade point average of 3.50 or better for all coursework completed at Eastern and who have completed 45 credits in residence at Eastern are recognized as honor students with the following designations:

3.50 – 3.69 Average . . . . . Cum Laude

3.70 – 3.89 Average . . . . . Magna Cum Laude

3.90 – 4.00 Average . . . . . Summa Cum Laude

Dean's Distinction. Graduating students who have achieved a 3.50 or better cumulative grade point average, but who have not completed 45 credits in residence at Eastern, will receive the Dean's Distinction Award.

The names in this program do not constitute an official graduation list. The students listed were considered candidates for the degree indicated when the program was printed. Students whose names are starred as honor graduates were considered candidates for honors when this program was printed. The student's final semester cumulative grade point average is not included and may alter this list.

Eastern Connecticut State University

Eastern Connecticut State University has experienced a series of transformations in the 131 years since its establishment as Connecticut's second teacher-training institution.

In 1889, the General Assembly established the Willimantic State Normal School, and on September 3, the school began classes in four rooms on the third floor of the Willimantic Savings Institute building at the corner of Bank and Main Streets. Thirteen students matriculated under the guidance of Principal Arthur B. Morrill. The first graduation ceremony in June 1891 sent 22 young women out into the world. A newly constructed Willimantic State Normal School was dedicated on May 17, 1895, during the tenure of Principal George Perley Phenix. This building was constructed on six acres of land deeded to the State by the Town of Windham in 1890.

In 1907, the General Assembly authorized construction of a second building — a “model school” for training teachers. The Town of Windham agreed to contribute both the site and part of the $16,666.67 anticipated cost. The facility, known for many years as the Windham Street School, opened in January 1910. Fire destroyed the structure in January 1924. Funds were appropriated in 1925 to purchase land and rebuild the “laboratory school.”

Named after Principal Henry T. Burr, the school's first dormitory opened in September 1921. Shafer Hall, dedicated in November 1946, was built to replace the original Normal School building, which had been lost to fire in 1943. The campus expanded north of Prospect Street to what is known as “middle campus” in 1946 and to “north campus” after 1963. Eastern's present campus has more than 50 buildings on 182 acres.

Name changes also have accompanied Eastern's evolving mission. In 1937, the Willimantic State Normal School became Willimantic State Teachers College and began offering a four-year curriculum; Principal George H. Shafer became the college's first president. He was succeeded by J. Eugene Smith in 1947, then Searle Charles, who was president of the College from 1966 to 1970. Between 1959 and 1969, a period of expansion and reform, the college name was changed to Willimantic State College and then to Eastern Connecticut State College in 1967. The last name change, to Eastern Connecticut State University, came in 1983 during the presidency of Charles R. Webb. David G. Carter Sr. led Eastern into the 21st century, serving as the University's president from April 1988 to January 2006. Under his leadership, the University saw significant enrollment growth, expanded its facilities and became Connecticut's public liberal arts university.

Elsa M. Núñez started her 14th year as president of Eastern Connecticut State University this past August 2019. Under President Núñez's leadership and with guidance provided by the 2008-13 and 2013-18 Strategic Plans, the University has seen much success. Advancements in the past decade include a stronger Liberal Arts Core; the implementation of a Student Success Model, including an Academic Services Center that consolidates tutoring, advising and other academic support services; an increased emphasis on experiential learning, e.g. internships and undergraduate research; an expanded and remodeled Student Center and enhanced student life program; construction of a beautiful 174,000-square foot Science Building in 2008; the opening of the new 118,000-square foot Fine Arts Instructional Center in January 2016; the creation of the Center for Community Engagement in 2009; and other University initiatives. Reflecting growth and renewal, the University reopened a modernized, newly equipped Communication Building in fall 2018. The renovated Goddard and Shafer Halls reopened in fall 2019.
