As a pre-education student, you are responsible for keeping an accurate record of the service hours you spend interacting with Prek-12 grade learners in an established educational organization (e.g., day care, public school, private school, camp). Pre-education students applying for CARE admission to a teacher education program must demonstrate evidence of a minimum of 50 service hours with learners, to include 20 hours in a school with at least 15% diversity or learners whose background (e.g., exceptionality diagnosis, linguistic, cultural, racial) is different from their own. Applicants should consider a range of activities to include observing and working directly with learners. Each pre-education student is required to document his/her hours of service. An educational official (supervisor) will need to verify service hours in order that they may be used for the CARE application. In the event that service hours are completed with more than one organization, two or more clock hours forms may be used. Afterwards, consolidate the hours onto one Summary form and submit all forms along with your upper-level application. No hours completed prior to admission to Eastern Connecticut State University may be used, except with written permission by the Chair of the Education Department.
